

ALICIA McMAHON

Author | Screenwriter | Storyteller Irish-born • Limerick, Ireland / United States lyshamc@yahoo.com •
720-841-7737

PROFILE Irish-born author and screenwriter originally from Limerick and now based in the United States. Author of the published memoir My Nana's Voice: An Irish Girl's Journey from Maiden to Mother to Crone and writer of its completed feature-film adaptation. Her work explores family, migration, motherhood, resilience, identity and the strength passed between generations of women.

SELECTED WRITING

MY NANA'S VOICE — Feature Screenplay Writer | 86 pages | Drama / Coming-of-Age Completed feature adaptation of Alicia's published memoir, based on her own journey from Ireland to America. Currently in selective producer outreach in Ireland, the UK, Canada and the United States. Rights: Alicia owns and controls the underlying memoir and screenplay rights.

MY NANA'S VOICE: AN IRISH GIRL'S JOURNEY FROM MAIDEN TO MOTHER TO CRONE — Memoir Author | Published 2018 A memoir tracing Alicia's journey from Limerick to America and the enduring influence of her Nana through emigration, motherhood, adversity and rebuilding. Also released as an audiobook narrated by Alicia. Audible confirms you as both author and narrator.

MEDIA & PUBLIC ENGAGEMENT Featured by I Love Limerick in an extensive profile about My Nana's Voice and its journey from memoir toward screen adaptation. Featured by IrishCentral in connection with the memoir and Alicia's experience rebuilding her life in America. Asked to serve as a spokesperson for the Boulder County Safehouse and participated in interviews and talks about overcoming domestic violence.

CURRENT SCREENPLAY ACTIVITY My Nana's Voice is a completed feature screenplay currently in targeted producer outreach and entered in selected screenplay competitions.